“Concessions” is really not what I would have used to describe the accomplishment of the NPL listing. Nor would I brag about being on this project for years, and it get to this place of clean up that we are at now.

I personally hold the state more accountable and unfortunately remember the struggles we had in past years.

As I shared with Chairman and Our council, it is all about timing, the right people in the positions who know how the politics work in Nevada and have the experience to address the work.

This day is flying by.

Have a great weekend.
